

Plan Your Paragraph

Writing Prompt

In your view, which case in “Supreme Court Cases Every Teen Should Know” had the biggest effect on the rights of teens? Write a paragraph that includes text evidence to support your claim.

Unpack the Task

Use the frame to analyze the prompt.

This prompt asks me to argue _____

_____

_____

_____

Choose Precise Language

Add two more precise words that could replace each everyday word.

Everyday	Precise
give	grant
	_____
	_____
big	extensive
	_____
	_____
show	exhibit
	_____
	_____

Organize Your Paragraph

Language to Report

I will argue that ____ because ____.

Take notes for your paragraph in the graphic organizer.

Topic Sentence and Reason: State the claim you will make in your paragraph.

Based on the evidence in "Supreme Court Cases Every Teen Should Know," I believe that

(name of case)

had the most extensive effect on teens' rights because it

Evidence: Collect evidence to support your claim.

Text Evidence: What the Text Says	Text Analysis: What This Tells Me
"principal refused to publish the two stories, saying they were too sensitive for younger students" (Jacobs 133)	principal in the Hazelwood case censored student journalists to protect the interests of other students

End: Write a concluding sentence that restates the claim and explains why it is true.

Write Your Paragraph

Type your final paragraph, or write it on a separate piece of paper.

Read it again, and correct any final spelling or grammar errors before you publish it.